Title: An Analysis of The Current Political and Socio-Economics Situation of Cameroon

Dear Country Men,

Dear Country Women,

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Dear Compatriots,

“Water don pass gari!” The water in the gari is more than the gari. The situation has gone bad! Cameroon is on a path to self-destruction. And we must save Cameroon from self-destruction. Let me start by enumerating the events that have brought Cameroon to this level.

Peace-Work-Liberty

- 1-The persistence of the dictator to stay in power (Chief reason)
- 2-The ongoing war of the North West and South West (NOSO)
- 3-The threat of Boko Haram
- 4- Covid-19 pandemic

1-The persistence of the dictator to stay in power. (Chief reason)

One can say that the current dictatorial regime isn't helping Cameroon. The president and dictator has been in power for more than thirty-eight (38) years; longer than most Cameroonians. What does it mean? It means that the people that ruled Cameroon since its independence (1960) still rule Cameroon today; therefore, most Cameroonians know only these people and have seen what these people have done and can do. So far, the results aren't satisfactory.

2-The War in the NoSo

The war in the NoSo is the cause-and-effect of bad governance, which can be summarized by the fact that some Cameroonians are tired of the people that have been and that are still running the affairs of the country.

Let's talk about the war in the NoSo. Last, we hear it was still boiling in the NoSo. The tactics of fighting have changed. More electronics and ground bombs are being planted than corn or coffee. More than 2 million (2.000.000) escapees displaced within the country, more than four hundred thousand (400.000) displaced into neighboring countries, more than five thousand (5000) Cameroonians (amba boys) dead; more than eleven hundred (1100) soldiers dead; more than five hundred (500) schools burned; more than two hundred (200) villages burned down. In short, the war in the NoSo has become a rignmarole.

Dear Cameroonians, dear brothers and sisters, our compatriots are dying. The country is getting rotten, and it sure look like it is getting worser. From what I just described; I see a prolonged war in the NoSo. I see NoSo on a "point of no return" unless a change of the system of governance is made from Yaoundé.

3-The treat of Boko Haram

The threat of Boko Haram started in Nigeria and spread to Cameroon and Chad, mostly in Islamic states; when established in secular states, it finds lodge in Islamic regions of these states. What is most specific about most Islamic states and regions is the disenfranchising of the population. This is the chief reason on how Boko Haram finds lodge in these states and regions. A Multinational Joint Task Force was formed (MNJTF), which is a contingent of more than eight thousand (8000) soldiers from Cameroon, Chad, Niger, and Nigeria; spread out on the affected terrorists' states or regions, to fight against the threat of Boko Haram. Unfortunately, the (MNJTF) has been unable to extinguish Boko Haram. Oh, keep in mind that the official policy of all governments toward terrorists is that "we can always kill terrorists at our chosen time." So how comes the government of Cameroon, together with the governments of Chad and Nigeria and Niger have been unable to extinguish the threat of Boko Haram?

4-Covid-19

Dear Cameroonians, dear brothers and sisters. Do you recollect when Covid-19 started? Of course, you do. Do you recollect what our First Secretary General, Mr. Therens Forjindam wrote to you? Do you? If you don't recollect, refer to The National Council for Democracy and Progress of Cameroon's Covid-19 Statement of April 17, 2020. In recap, the First Secretary General, Mr. Therens Forjindam penned down some few "precious recommendations" for our members to follow. One of the "precious recommendations" was that: no one should donate to any scheme organized either by the government or by a political party to support the fight against Covid-19. Just like a magician, the First Secretary General, Mr. Therens Forjindam saw these schemes as an enrichment opportunity to our politicians, as usual. Now, there are two major investigations on about the whereabouts on funds donated and collected: Bug Informatique Audit; Covidgate, Cameroon.

Peace-Work-Liberty

Let's start with "Bug Informatique", which is the word coined by the investigative report of the Cameroon Renaissance Movement (CRM), which is behind the Survie-Cameroon Survival Initiative (SCSI).

Dear Cameroonians, dear brothers, and sisters; ask yourselves these questions: what did you think "le président élu" was feeding on when he was under house arrest for three months? what did you think the members of CRM were feeding on when their businesses and activities were destroyed and looted by the men in the government? Anyways, a lot of questions can be asked. Pick your answer. As for my answer, I don't pity the donors of the CRM at all. The First Secretary General, Mr. Therens Forjindam had warned you against it. Blame yourselves for falling into these endless schemes. Haven't you learned enough! Haven't you learned enough!

Let talk about the Covidgate, Cameroon by the government. Why did the government order an audit on funds for Covid-19? Because not surprisingly embezzlement has made it way on the table.

Peace-Work-Liberty

Covid-19 was a brut and worst pandemic. No one should doubt this. Covid-19 had a strong negative economic impact and strained; and will strain for quite some time Cameroon. The government in place had no reserved funds to fight against Covid-19. While governments in various organized countries were sending financial helps to their citizens, some Cameroonians managed to enrich themselves by embezzling funds from the International Monetary Funds (IMF). This is really disturbing psychologically.

As for my answer toward the embezzled funds of the IMF, I say the perpetrators should be followed by the court of law (if there is a court of law in the country).

Dear Country Men,

Dear Country Women,

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Dear Compatriots,

Peace-Work-Liberty

We shall build the “New Cameroon.” This is the good news. Another good news is that the “New Cameroon” is just around the corner; we shall and must get to that corner and hop on the train to prosperity and progress and of hope that The National Council for Democracy and Progress of Cameroon has for you.

This is the message that the First Secretary General Mr. Therens Forjindam has for you. Voilà tout.

Thank You.

May God Bless Cameroon.

Long Live Cameroon.

Long Live to the People of Cameroon.

Signed:

Date 06/13/2021

First Secretary General of The National Council for Democracy and Progress of Cameroon

Mr. Therens Forjindam
